

Father essential in development of daughter's sense of worth

Aspen can be a father has a great deal of control over his child's life.

Michelle Liberman

A father who plays an active role in his child's life can help him or her develop a sense of worth and self-esteem. This is especially true for girls, who often have a more difficult time than boys in developing a sense of worth.

There are a number of factors that determine how a girl develops her sense of worth. One of the most important is the role of her father.

Research has shown that girls who have a strong relationship with their fathers are more likely to have a positive self-image and a sense of worth.

One reason for this is that fathers often play a more active role in their daughters' lives than mothers do. Fathers are more likely to engage their daughters in activities that build self-esteem, such as sports and hobbies.

Another reason is that fathers often provide a model of how to deal with challenges. Girls who see their fathers handling difficulties with confidence and courage are more likely to do the same.

Sometimes the importance of being a father goes unrecognized but a recent University of Waterloo study has found that a father's role in the development of a girl's self-worth is crucial.

Bar butt-grabbers have to be told

On a hot day, it's easy to get a little hot under the collar. But when it comes to grabbing a girl's butt, there's a line that should not be crossed.

Lindsey Turnbull

But the more you know about it, the more you realize that it's not just a simple matter of grabbing a girl's butt. It's a complex issue that involves a lot of factors, including the age of the girls and the intentions of the men.

One of the most important factors is the age of the girls. If a man is grabbing a girl's butt who is under the age of 16, it is a crime.

Another important factor is the intentions of the man. If a man is grabbing a girl's butt to harass or intimidate her, it is a crime.

So, if you're a man and you're thinking about grabbing a girl's butt, think twice. You could be in for a lot of trouble.

Owners of Jet Skis should be held responsible for watercraft accidents

A new year-old watercraft accident that took place on July 15th in a local lake, resulted in the death of a young man. The accident was caused by a jet ski operator who was not wearing a life preserver.

Nursing grad achieves childhood dreams

By Lindsey Gilman

"We all have childhood dreams and most of us put them away from us by the time we are 16 years old, while others never stop thinking about them," says Lindsey Gilman, a nursing graduate from the University of Ontario at Scarborough. She recently fulfilled all her dreams as she got her B.S.N.

Growing up, Lindsey talked about becoming a nurse with her grandmother, who had a lot of experience at the age of 70.

"She always told me I would make a good nurse and said I should study it," Lindsey said. "She always told me that I should study it."

She attended the nursing program at the University of Ontario at Scarborough and graduated with a B.S.N. in 1994. She said that nursing was her first choice, but she had to work hard to get into the program. She said that she was a very hard worker and that she was a very hard worker.

Lindsey graduated on May 1, 1995 and received her B.S.N. degree. She said that she was very proud of her achievement and that she was very proud of her achievement. She said that she was very proud of her achievement and that she was very proud of her achievement.

She says that she is a nurse because she is a nurse. She says that she is a nurse because she is a nurse. She says that she is a nurse because she is a nurse.

At St. Mary's Hospital, Lindsey is part of a team of other registered nurses (RNs) and registered practical nurses (RPNs).

As an RN, Lindsey is responsible for the patient's care, including the patient's physical, psychological, and social needs.
